

Too short for some of us, the pleasant time we had during vacation has already vanished like shadows.

The earthly joys last but one moment, it seems. What a striking picture of the briefness of life. Not long ago we were all glad to swing our books to the top shelf or in the corner, but now it is time to pick them all up and with them we must try to find back all our good will to face the school duties with a good heart.

According to the Doctor's advice some of the school children were not allowed to enter on the 3rd of September. Whooping-cough had visited a great many families by the end of August.

On the 8th of Sept. we had the pleasure to greet in our midst a young English lady, Miss Mary Bosanquet. What strange adventures she met with, such as to face a grizzly bear or to be followed by a moose. You know she's going across our continent on horse-back; she has seen the beautiful Rocky Mountains with high peaks covered with snow. She told us that London compared to Regina is about 12 or 15 times larger. There is so much traffic in London that people have to travel in the underground tunnels. By November she expects to be in Montreal City, where she will sell her two Canadian horses before leaving for England.

The 12th of Sept. was the 62nd anniversary of the foundation of the St. Joseph's Order. Rev. Father Principal gave us a full-day holiday in honour of the Sisters, to whom some of us offered a little souvenir. We went to the farm for our picnic. Every one enjoyed the good time we had and felt very thankful for the treat.

One day, two little girls, Tiny and Olive, went to bed in the afternoon and got up at 5.30 p.m. Other little ones were in bed, too, and not feeling well enough to get up for their supper. Sister told Tiny and Olive to get a cup of milk for the sick girls; both went down to the milk-room and came back with a cupful of milk. They helped themselves to bread and sitting down started to eat, being sure this was meant for them. Imagine their surprise when the Nurse came down looking for them and discovered out two mischievous babies, all alone in the dining room. How cheap they felt.

At present every one is busy harvesting and putting all the vegetables in the cellar for the winter supply. Mr. Paquin, our boys' keeper, goes to the garden with the little boys every day.

Rev. Father Principal has bought beautiful new Frost swings for the school yard. All boys and girls try their best to show Father how much they appreciate this generous gift, for neither one nor the other is free during the recess period. One race follows another to see who shall reach and touch the tree top leaves.

This picture is placed on the wall above the altar. It was given to the Knights of Columbus by our former Principal, Father de Bretagne of Lebret. It was painted by Mgr. Maillard. We are very glad and proud of the picture in our church. Many thanks to you, Father de Bretagne. The K. C. had the picture put up at the expense of $50.00.

Father Fry's Departure.

We are very sorry Father Fry has left. And I'm sure Father Chatelain is sorry for him, too. The boys and girls gave him a reception before leaving this mission. Kind Father Fry gave us a speech; Margaret Bruyere read an address and presented a spiritual bouquet on behalf of the school children. And all the children sang "Leaf by leaf," etc.

School Again.

Back to school, boys and girls, all have a smile on their lips. We have two days' scholars. We were happy to see a new teacher, Sister Robinet for the Senior class. We didn't have regular classes for a week. She promoted each of us to a higher grade.

Father Kalmes' Arrival.

We are all happy to have Father Kalmes here at Fort Frances as our Vice Principal. Father Kalmes was a pioneer here at our Mission and, of course, he enjoys being here where he spent so many years. Everyone has a cheery "Good morning" and a bright smile for Father Kalmes, and he in turn, always has a jolly greeting for the boys and girls whom he meets.

SCHOOL NEWS

Wedding Bells.

On the 11th of September, Helen Flett, a former school mate, was married to Mr. Thomas Sinclair of Rainy River. Their wedding was very beautiful. Rev. Sister Superior played a march as bride and bridegroom and wedding suit walked to the altar. There were three bridesmaids, among them was Lina Adams from this school, also a cousin to the bride. The children sang hymns. Helen was a pupil of this school for about ten years; she was a very dutiful girl, and we know that she will be a very good wife. Thirteen girls and eight boys were invited to the wedding dinner. We are very grateful to Rev. Father Principal for giving us permission to go. Kind Father Fry went with us to the home of the bride, where they served us dinner. After dinner some of us girls offered to help the ladies wash dishes. We stayed there about two hours; we really enjoyed ourselves. In the name of all the pupils of this school I wish Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair a very happy married life.

Composition.

The re-opening of our school was on Sept. 3rd. We had a holiday the next day. In the afternoon of our holiday, we all went for a walk with Father Fry. On Friday, Sept. 8th, the Most Reverend Emile Yell came to administer the holy sacrament of Confirmation. Many of our boys and girls were given the Confirmation and some grown ups also. The ceremony took place at 8 a.m. I was
